Printable Coloring Page Mandrill Baboon

Michelle Weaver 08

Endangered African mandrills are one of the largest species of monkey in the world. Their furry head crests, manes, and beards are quite impressive, but what will really get your attention is their bright coloration. They have thick ridges along their noses that are purple and blue, their noses and lips are red, and their beards are golden. Interesting Factoid: They have large cheek pouches inside their mouths that they can stuff full of food to eat at a later time. Their habitat is primarily rain forest in the equatorial region of western Africa.
